Citibank Foundation Study: 90% of Students Connect Entrepreneurial Mindset to Academic Success
95% of students also said that the Entrepreneurial Skills learned will help in Life and not just Business

"In addition to learning about business-specific concepts, students reported that the content and skills they learned during the NFTE, NY, program (similar to I Create's Change the Mindset - CMS) were related to broader academic skills and content. A number of students reported that they had improved their math skills, particularly through working on business

Young minds take the business route for success

At the recently held I Create National Business Plan Competition (NBPC) in Bangalore, Goa was represented by Leander Pinto of Saraswat College, Leena Sawant, Carmel College and Melisa Fernandes, Damodar College- all winners of the State-level Business Plan Competition. Empowering people to be self sustaining

GCCI - I Create along with Human Touch and Positive People conducted an entrepreneurship program for 40 participants in Merces on February 14. Some participants had failed businesses, others wanted to start out on their own while some wanted to improve the scope of their business. Clare Noronha, Farida Dias, Laura Alvares and Jervis Pereira conducted the program with Peter Borges of Human Touch and Godwin of Positive People in the lead. Participants were taken through the introduction of I Create, a business cycle, communication and an activity which helped them decide on how to look for business opportunities.

It was awesome, entertaining and very encouraging.
 ---Nindiya Bandekar,
 S S Dempo College,

Not only was it helpful but it was awesome as well.
 ---Sanjana Gaonkar,
